30 November 2025 — קריאת התורה: Sacred Protocols and the Legacy of the יקעס

Content-based review · reviewer read the Sofer.ai-style transcript (the long file with italic glosses), the Plaud transcript, the AI summary, and the finished write-up (the version before the Sefaria corrections) · 18 October 2026

1.The Shiur in One Paragraph

A Sunday-morning shiur in the tefillah series, continuing from the previous week's opening of the aron kodesh and Brich Shmei. The lecturer begins by sponsoring the breakfast and shiur himself, because on Zayin Kislev (Thursday 27 November) he forgot the yahrzeit of his grandfather, a former Satmar student who became a Bar-Ilan professor of Talmud, until a stranger delivering a book from Rabbi Travis reminded him an hour before shkiah; he dedicates the shiur to his grandfather and to his great-grandfather, who was murdered in the Holocaust. He then answers a question raised the week before: why Frankfurt Jews do not say Brich Shmei. The answer is a history of German Jewry and of Ashkenazic suspicion of kabbalah: the Divrei Koheles of Rav Shlomo Zalman Geiger, his brother Abraham Geiger the Reformer, Rav Hirsch and the secession from the Reform community; Shabsai Tzvi and the Amsterdam cherem on the Shelah; the Chasam Sofer, the Maharsha, the Noda BiYehuda against Leshem Yichud, and the Rema's rule that halachah overrides kabbalah; the Baal Shem Tov and the change in our generation. Two further objections to the text follow: bar elahin (with the Yerushalmi on Nebuchadnezzar) and ana avda dekudsha brich hu (with the Chofetz Chaim's private practice and the Yaavetz). The second half goes through the order of the Torah service: Gadlu laShem iti and the six steps of the Ark (Avudraham), escorting the scroll, the Arizal's gazing at the letters, why Ashkenazim lift after the reading, an uncommon honor (handing the mantle), the custom of giving pesichah to an expectant father (Chida; Rav Chaim Palagi), silence during the removal of the scroll, Hakol havu godel, and a proposal, from the Or Zarua/Mordechai, to divide the honors. He closes with a mishnah from the end of Makkos.

2.Overall Fidelity — What the Write-Up Does Well

The write-up follows the lecturer's order closely and keeps most of the argument intact: the structure of the Frankfurt answer, the chain from Shabsai Tzvi to the Chasam Sofer to the Baal Shem Tov, the two "dangerous" phrases of Brich Shmei, the six-steps story, and the Ashkenazic reason for lifting after the reading are all rendered accurately and in good proportion. The historical detail the lecturer develops (the two Geiger brothers, Hirsch and KAJ, the eighty families, the Amsterdam cherem) is preserved rather than compressed. The pattern to note is that nearly every error in the write-up was inherited from the AI summary rather than from the recording: a change of subject from Hakol havu to Barchu, an invented source title, a misunderstood family relationship, and a prayer attributed to a Tanna. These are corrected below. The write-up also loses the opening story's texture (the stranger, the gabbai's lists, the great-grandfather) and several asides that give the shiur its voice.

3.Content Flags — What Is Wrong, Misattributed, Omitted, or Added

A. Misattributions and overclaims

Flag 1 — The grandfather's chavrusa was the Satmar Rav, not the Chazon Ish. The write-up has "When he came to ישראל ן he became close to the איש and was a יו־תא of his." Neither recording mentions the Chazon Ish. The Sofer-style transcript has: he "learned by the טמאר רב ...

by the holy יואל, he learned with him ברותא, he prepared a שיור with him, he's one of the best guys in ה: in מאר, in ים [back home]. And then he moved to ישראל"; and later "he always held himself a זיד of the מאר רב." The AI summary, which has the Chazon Ish, is the source of the error. Corrected in the HTML. The write-up also omits "as a child" for the Yom HaAtzmaut visit to the shul in Petach Tikva (restored).

Flag 2 — "The phrase is in fact a וק in לים." The write-up says that ז עבדא דקודשא בריך הוא "is in fact a ק." The lecturer's point is narrower: he recalls ז עבדך בן אמתך from Hoshana Rabbah and says "that's a ק in לים; we're quoting המלך." [Sefaria check: Tehillim 116:16, כי אני עבדך אני עבדך בן אמתך ה'; the Aramaic phrase of Brich Shmei is not a verse.] Corrected to a parallel and footnoted. The lecturer also names the rav who changed the text ("Reb Avraham Shor, my rav in Flatbush," heard as "Schorr"); the write-up omits the name (it has "my in כ.("אטבוש

Flag 3 — A prayer attributed to Rabbi Yochanan ben Zakkai that the recording does not contain. Section XIV has "Say זנא ירחם עמא מסכנא — a beautiful לה composed by יוחנן בן זכאי for א דמסכנא." The Sofer-style text has: "say הגדולה' ה, say א. הרחמים הוא ירחם עמוסים Beautiful ויחון אותנו לפליטת עולמים. לות"; the Plaud transcript has "say over rachmanu yirachem amamusim beautiful tfiloh, so yochnei son of light." The AI summary turned הרחמים … עמוסים and ן into a prayer and its author. Corrected.

Flag 4 — Section XV is about ל הבו גודל לאלהינו, not וכ; and the verse is ב:ג"ים ל', not זינו. The write-up has the gabbai announcing "ו:" as a call for silence, and Moshe calling "וינו — 'listen with me'" before "שיר." The recording has the lecturer address the gabbai: after לה ותראה מלכותו עלינו בזמן קרוב he calls ל הבו גודל לאלקינו; הי the (מחזור ויטרי, אבודרהם, רי בר יקר, רוקח) שונים read this as the call for silence before the ות:; and Moshe, "before he said the ה of ה",וינו says ברכו .אקרא הבו גודל לאלהינו' ה and ת התורה: are the topic "next week." [Sefaria: Devarim 32:3, "For the name of the Eternal I proclaim; give glory to our God!"; 32:1 is וינו השמים.] Corrected.

Flag 5 — "Say Yitzchak." The write-up has the sage answering the husband of a woman in difficult labor "Say ק," because "ק brings forth children easily." The Sofer-style text has "Say ר. Why ר? Because ר, klap kinder aroys [the children should come out]." The AI summary supplied ק. The word ר is probably the verse ויזכר אלהים את רחל … נח את רחמה [Sefaria: Bereishis 30:22, "God remembered Rachel; God heeded her and opened her womb"], but that is a reviewer's inference. Corrected, with the inference in the note.

Flag 6 — The title זה כהונה תמרי תקניין. The write-up bolds this as the Chida's book for the expectant-father custom. It appears only in the AI summary; the Sofer-style text says only "the א" brings it" and "the א" says it's a לה that the ז should open"; the Plaud text says "the chidah." No work of that name is known to this review. Removed; the endnote's guesses (Machzik Berachah, Moreh BaEtzba) are also removed, as the recording does not support them.

Flag 7 — "The אריה ." The write-up identifies the ג"רש as "the שם ה," and a note says the אריה is a different author's work. The Sofer-style text has "שמעון גרינפלד, the דעירב " (a garble, probably a place-name for his rabbinate); the Plaud text has nothing close to אריה . The identification was added by the AI summary. Removed.

Flag 8 — Zaks family relationships. The write-up has "Hillel Zaks … one zaks is a son-in-law of the Chofetz Chaim, and Mendel Zaks was a רא ש ישיבה in YU." The Sofer-style text: "his grandson הלל זקס … one of them is [eidim] by the Chofetz Chaim. מנדל זקס. Right, מנדל was his son-in-law. So his son, הלל זקס, was ש ישיבה in ון־ in ן ישראל." So Mendel (the son-in-law, at YU) and Hillel (Mendel's son, the Chofetz Chaim's grandson, at Chevron) are separate. Corrected.

Flag 9 — German rabbis named by the summary. The write-up lists "רב ווירצבורגער (the שלמה זלמן בעמברגער) and ך לנר (the ב עטלינגער)" as the opponents of Hirsch's course. The recordings name only Geiger and "Bamberger" (the Würzburger Rav): "Rav Bamberger and Rav Geiger were very upset." Ettlinger appears in neither recording, and "Shlomo Zalman" is not said of Bamberger (the lecturer gives it only to Geiger). The first name of the Würzburger Rav is left open (the reviewer believes it was Seligmann Baer, but this is not in the recording and was not checked on Sefaria). Corrected to Geiger and Bamberger.

Flag 10 — Details that the recording gives differently. (a) Kollel not kehillah: "our adopted ל from ן ישראל" (the stranger is sent by Rabbi Travis of that ל). (b) "ל" for the person who rolls the scroll should be ל (Sofer-style: "the ל, the guy that does ה"). (c) The Amsterdam ז covered the Shelah "and all other י קבלה זוהר," not only the Shelah. (d) The ם סופר's three ים are named: the רב נתן אדלר, לאה, and זלמן חסיד (the write-up has "זלמן , and others"). (e) The wife's "sextuplets, his daughters": see Flag 13. All corrected.

Flag 11 — The Magen Avraham is stated as a fact; the lecturer was unsure. The write-up has "The אברהם explains" the reason for lifting after the reading. The recording: "I don't know if it's the אברהם or one of the other רונים." [Sefaria: Shulchan Aruch OC 134:2 and the gloss confirm the Ashkenazic practice; Mishnah Berurah 134:8 confirms it without giving this reason; the reason was not found in the Magen Avraham as retrieved.] Hedged in the HTML. The write-up's "There is a known שה of a ל discovered after ת התורה had been said" is also firmer than the recording ("maybe because of a maaseh shehayah…").

Flag 12 — The division of honors is over-extended. The write-up has the Mordechai split the actions as "one person opens the ן; another removes the ־; the ח ציבור carries it," and a note adds replacing and closing as "the basis of selling each item separately." The recording: "A separate person … takes out the ־ תורה, gives it to the ח ציבור, and the ח ציבור של carries it to the ה." The attribution is also indistinct: "the זרוע או writes in the name of the ח"ר … is brought down in the ח"ר," then "the כי־ writes." Corrected to the three-step division and the attribution left open.

Flag 13 — Obed-Edom's household; the Gemara's own words. The lecturer says "all his daughters had sextuplets." The write-up repeats it with "sextuplets every birth." [Sefaria: Berachos 63b, זוֹ חָמוֹת וּשְׁמוֹנָה כַּלּוֹתֶיהָ שֶׁיָּלְדוּ שִׁשָּׁה בְּכָרֵס אֶחָד: a mother-in-law and her eight daughters-in-law, each bearing six at a time.] The lecturer's "daughters" is flagged and not silently changed; the write-up's "ד ע"א" is dropped (not found there). Also, "the גמ' discusses different ות" about the offerings is Sotah 35b [Sefaria: Rav Pappa bar Shmuel, Rav Chisda]; the lecturer says "ה" ס"ה דף ל.

Flag 14 — The cross-reference to Pesachim 118a, and the targum remark. The note to the Yerushalmi adds "the אלהים source is also in ח ע"א" זים קי." Not in the recording. [Sefaria: Pesachim 118a has Gabriel's offer to cool the furnace but no "אלהין"; the Yerushalmi Shabbos 6:9 has "similar to a son of gods," and the angel who "hit that evildoer on his mouth, and told him, correct your words."] Separately, the lecturer's claim that "at the end of Bereishis" the targum renders האלהים as א does not match Onkelos at Bereishis 6:2 (רברביא); Onkelos renders להים as א at Shemos 22:8. Both are corrected in the endnote; the lecturer's remark is reported, not silently changed.

Flag 15 — The Maharsha and Lublin. Both recordings have "the א" רש, מו the א"'s cousin. We were by the א" רש in Lublin last year." The write-up keeps "whose ר we visited in Lublin" and adds a note praising Lublin. The א" רש, as far as the reviewer knows, is buried in Ostroh; the grave in Lublin is that of the ל" רש, the better-known critic of kabbalistic customs and a friend of the א". This may be a slip in the recording (or a misheard letter). Left as reported, with a note; unverified.

Flag 16 — "My father … nine months ago." The write-up has "nine months ago." Both transcripts read "about nine years ago." Since the lecturer says that this is the first year his father is not there to remind him, "months" is the sensible reading, but it is a reading. Left as "nine months," flagged in the Open Questions.

Flag 17 — The dedication. The header in the write-up reads "' לעילוי נשמת ר אשר אנשיל הי״ד ' ב אליהו בן ר," which a reader may take as saying that the grandfather was killed. The Sofer-style text says: "רב אשר ם ינקום דמו is on זל, my great-grandfather who was killed in the Holocaust. I was there by the crematoriums two years ago." The ד belongs to the great-grandfather only; the grandfather (יעקב אליהו, born Weiss, later Ephrati) is "זכר צדיק וכה." Clarified in the Sefer Edition.

B. Omissions

- The stranger story in full. Rabbi Travis (who, the lecturer says, expects to be excommunicated for his book, which deals with Even HaEzer questions including transgender issues) sent the book with a man flying to America; the man met Rabbi Travis once on a plane ten years earlier; he texted from Flatbush, came to the lecturer's house an hour later, and said, as he left, "You're Avishai Efrati's son? … I daven vasikin with your father every Shabbos [in a shul on the lecturer's block]… Isn't today your grandfather's yahrzeit? I'm the gabbai; gabbaim have yahrzeit lists." The write-up keeps the outline only. The lecturer's remark that he has always been "jealous" of others' hashgachah pratis stories is omitted.
- The grandfather's work. His books are "not popular because he had a different derech halimud… more into mechkar": he taught gemara with girsaos and nuschaos and "who is the man dehamar," and was "the trailblazer" who gave the high-school (tichon) system a method of studying gemara. The write-up has the general point only.
- The great-grandfather, Hy"d, "a holy Jew, a chashuva Jew," and the visit "by the crematoriums two years ago" (Flag 17).
- Why Hirsch's critics were suspicious. Hirsch introduced hakafos with dancing on Simchas Torah; the lecturer says Geiger and Bamberger called it a chutzpah and that "until today certain kehillos" do not do it. The write-up keeps the fact of the innovation but not the reaction or the present-day echo.
- The Reform "are gone." The lecturer says the Reform are "assimilated," that of the old German community "a lot ended up dead because of the war," and ties it to a warning: "Lawrence is not our Yerushalayim… The ideal Jewish life is in Yerushalayim, ki miTzion teitzei Torah." The write-up keeps only "Berlin became their Jerusalem."

- Geiger's book and the lecturer's asides. "You should not have the book in your home… probably apikorsus"; the exchange with an audience member about the Geiger family tree; the Hirsch Chumash is kept. None of this belongs in a sefer except possibly a sentence on Geiger's Bible criticism, already kept.
- The Sanhedrin source for Shabsai Tzvi. "He was megaleh panim baTorah shelo kehalachah, which is one of the worst things Chazal say in Perek Chelek in Sanhedrin: ein lo cheilek le'olam haba." [Sefaria: Sanhedrin 99a.] Restored with a note. The lecturer also forgets Shabsai Tzvi's Muslim name ("it's not important"); omitted.
- The pinkas hakehillah. A short explanation of the genre (the community notebook of customs and decrees) is reduced to "the communal record."
- Two Rishonim-level points. (a) Rav Nosson Adler "was a big mekubal" yet never taught it in public. (b) Sephardim say Brich Shmei only on Shabbos, Yom Tov and Rosh Chodesh, "because according to kabbalah you're only supposed to say [it then]"; Ashkenazim say it daily "because the pshat of the Zohar says every day." The write-up has the first as a reason for the nuschaos but not the second.
- The Chasam Sofer and Mitpachas Sefarim. "The Chasam Sofer was maskim to the sefer Mitpachas Sefarim" (heard; the write-up turns it into "reservations on certain components"). Left as an open question; the reviewer finds the claim surprising, since the Yaavetz died in 1776 and the Chasam Sofer was born in 1762.

- Ending. The lecturer closes with the mishnah of Rabbi Chananya ben Akashya, "the Holy One wished to make Israel meritorious, therefore He gave them much Torah and many mitzvos, as it is said, Hashem chafetz lema'an tzidko yagdil Torah veyadir" [Sefaria: Makkos 3:16, citing Yeshayahu 42:21]. The write-up's closing סיכום replaces it.

- Live interludes. The sponsor negotiation, the bagels, the gabbai (Reb Yossi) who needs water, and the questions from the floor ("Was the sefer Torah pasul the week before also?" — "yes, hachi nami") are properly omitted, except that the last is worth keeping as a note.

C. Added or editorial material not in the shiur

The concluding סיכום is composed. "May we all be זכה to honor the ספר תורה with the הדור and את שמים it deserves — silent at the open אבון is the editor's voice; the lecturer closes with "Have a wonderful week" and the mishnah above.

Endnote additions. The following are the write-up's own research and not the lecturer's: the Mantua/Cremona printing of the Zohar and the Shaarei Tzion link (fn 1); the biographical dates for Geiger (fn 2); "written before the Shoah" (fn 3); the claim that the Chasam Sofer's remark is "from his own שואה" (fn 4); the "Heller family" lineage of the Maharsha (fn 5); the exact siman of the Noda BiYehuda and the "ה ס"ק מ"ב משנה ברורה כ" cross-reference (fn 6–7); the Yaavetz's date (fn 9); the Rokeach and the Chofetz Chaim biographies (fn 10); "sextuplets every birth" (fn 12); the חיים את and חיים מים suggestions (fn 17); the אריה מגן (fn 18); the "basis of … selling each item" (fn 20). Several are wrong or unverified (Section 4).

4.Sofer vs. Plaud (Resolved), Remaining Garbles, and the Sefaria Pass

Resolved from context (Plaud → intended). "Shach Tzayfni" = Shabsai Tzvi. "Zoyar," "Zoyra hakadosh" = Zohar. "Brich Shmei" for "Baruch Shem"/"Birch Shmei"; the AI summary spells the passage ברכי שמה throughout. "Oyelam" = olam. "Rebbe Nelson Adler," "Rebbe Zalman C hos id" = רב נתן אדלר, רב זלמן חסיד. "Maharshah" = מהרש"א (as heard). "Yenkis" = יעקעס. "Rav Shamshe" = רב שמשון. "Chidah" = חיד"א. "Oren" = aron. "Pinkas" =

פנקס.

Remaining garbles (left in the open-questions list). "Nine months/nine years"; "Rav Chaim" and the name of the audience member who raised Frankfurt; the Noda BiYehuda's two responsa; the Chasam Sofer and Mitpachas Sefarim; the descriptor "סמי דעירב"; the source of the "מהר"ח" attribution; which אחרון gives the reason for lifting after the reading; the word heard as יזכור; the Chida's work; the name of the Frankfurt Geiger (dates); the Hy"d's placement.

Sefaria pass. Verified: Yerushalmi Shabbos 6:9 (Nebuchadnezzar; the angel slaps him; "correct your words"); Sanhedrin 99a (המגלה פנים בתורה שלא כהלכה); Sanhedrin 21a (Michal); Sanhedrin 92b (an angel strikes Nebuchadnezzar on the mouth, different context); Berachos 63b (Obed-Edom); Sotah 35b (the six steps; two opinions); Shmuel II 6:13, 6:23; Tehillim 34:4 (גדלו לה' אתי ונרוממה שמו יחדיו, six words); Tehillim 116:16; Devarim 32:1–3; Bereishis 30:22; Daniel 3:25 (English); Shulchan Aruch OC 134:2 and gloss; Shulchan Aruch OC 149:1 (gloss: escort, to the Ark); Mishnah Berurah 134:8; Soferim 14 (raised before the reading; at גדלו); Onkelos to Bereishis 6:2 and Shemos 22:8; Makkos 3:16. Corrected: Pesachim 118a cross-reference; Obed-Edom's household; the Hillel/Mendel Zaks relationship. Not located: Meshech Chochmah to Bechukosai (page retrieval failed); the Noda BiYehuda responsa (search API unavailable); the Chasam Sofer's passage; the Rema's Darkei Moshe principle (Darkei Moshe OC 25 does not contain it); the Maharsha; the Chida; Rav Chaim Palagi; the Maharshag's responsum; the Or Zarua/Mordechai; the Avudraham/Machzor Vitry; the Zohar passage (retrieval failed); Divrei Koheles and the Geiger dates.

5.Recommended Corrections for the Sefer Edition

1. The grandfather learned with the Satmar Rav in Satmar; delete the Chazon Ish (Flag 1).

2. אנא עבדא — a parallel to Tehillim 116:16, not itself a verse; name Rav Avraham Shor (as heard) (Flag 2).
3. Replace the "Yochanan ben Zakkai prayer" with אב הרחמים and ויחון אותנו (Flag 3).
4. Retitle Section XV as הכל הבו גודל לאלהינו; use Devarim 32:3 (Flag 4).
5. Use יזכור (as heard); keep the Bereishis 30:22 suggestion as an editorial inference (Flag 5).
6. Delete the invented title; the Chida's work is unnamed (Flag 6); delete שם אריה (Flag 7).
7. Separate Mendel and Hillel Zaks (Flag 8); name only Geiger and Bamberger as opponents (Flag 9).
8. Correct כולל, גולל, the scope of the Amsterdam cherem, the three teachers of the Chasam Sofer (Flag 10).
9. Present the reason for lifting after the reading as the lecturer's report of an acharon (Flag 11); the division of honors as three steps (Flag 12).
10. Correct Obed-Edom's household, the Pesachim cross-reference, and the targum remark (Flags 13–14); report the Maharsha/Lublin as the lecturer's (Flag 15).
11. Keep "nine months" with a query; clarify the Hy"d (Flags 16–17).
12. Restore: the stranger story in outline; the grandfather's method; the great-grandfather; Hirsch's hakafos and the reaction; "Lawrence is not our Yerushalayim"; Sanhedrin 99a; Rav Nosson Adler; daily vs. Shabbos-only Brich Shmei; the Makkos closing.
13. Drop the live cues, the water interlude, the sponsor negotiation, and the composed סיכום (or mark it as editorial).

6.Follow-up Questions Worth Asking the Rav, and Bottom Line

Q1.Was the father's passing nine months or nine years before the shiur (the first yahrzeit of the grandfather without him)?

Q2.Which teshuvah of the Noda BiYehuda (two are mentioned) and which teshuvah of the Chasam Sofer are meant? Is it the Maharsha or the Maharshal who wrote against learning Zohar, and whose grave was visited in Lublin?

Q3.What did the Chasam Sofer say about Mitpachas Sefarim? Where does the Amsterdam pinkas record the cherem on the Shelah?

Q4.Which acharon gives the reason for lifting after the reading (the Magen Avraham?), and what was the maaseh shehayah?

Q5.In which work does the Chida write about the expectant father and the aron, and what is the word (ז[illegible] verse?) said for a difficult birth? Which work of Rav Chaim Palagi has the ruling that the same person closes the aron?

Q6.Where does the Maharshag discuss stopping pesukei dezimra, and what is "[illegible] דעירב סמי"?

Q7.Which passage of the Or Zarua or Mordechai has the dispute over pesichah, and is "ח"[illegible] אהר correct?

Q8.The Sephardic and Ashkenazic practice for Brich Shmei (Shabbos only vs. daily): what is the source for the daily recital? Was Hirsch's own community's practice recorded?

A faithful and lively rendering of the historical middle (the Geigers, Hirsch, Shabsai Tzvi, the six-steps story, the reason for lifting after the reading), but its errors come from the AI summary: it puts the grandfather with the Chazon Ish instead of the Satmar Rav, turns Hakol havu into Barchu and Haazinu into Az yashir, supplies a prayer and an author (Yochanan ben Zakkai), a book title for the Chida, and a name ([illegible] אריה) that the recording does not contain, says "Yitzchak" for yizkor, and runs the Zaks relatives together. It also loses the > stranger story's texture, the grandfather's method, and the lecturer's warning against thinking any diaspora is Jerusalem. Fix the seventeen flags, restore the omissions, and keep the lecturer's own hesitations (the Magen Avraham, the Maharsha and Lublin, "nine months") visible. The Sefaria pass confirms the Talmudic spine (Yerushalmi Shabbos, Sanhedrin, Berachos, Sotah, Makkos) and corrects its details.

Produced by a content-based review pass reading the transcripts, the AI summary, and the finished write-up. Reviewer brings the perspective of a learned general reader familiar with the standard siddur and the poskim cited in the shiur.